Would you please discount the specifics and get to the generalities of acknowledging almost instant obsolescence and the need to develop newer, faster and more efficient programs. Consumers are greatly benefitted by Microsoft's software. Let the consuming public decide at the cash register. Let Microsoft continue to help materially in our losing balance of trade "battle." Let all the titans of tech get to work. They create a great deal of wealth, which is taxable and consumable. This is what made America great.

Let's roll !
